This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFATORY NOTE

These additional references supplement the "Select list of references on the cost of living and prices" published in the spring of 1910. That such a supplement was needed is very forcibly shown by the fact that the additional references make up a list fully as long as the original list, notwithstanding that our rule of exclusion was more rigidly enforced. The interest in the subject is universal. Not only have national, state, and provincial governments published documents on the subject, but some of the most valuable studies have been prepared by municipalities; for example, Amsterdam (item 463), Dresden (383), Halle (394), Moscow (468), St. Petersburg (469), Paris (21), Stockholm (479), and Trieste (349a and b). These offer concrete examples of actual conditions with statistics of special interest to the serious student.

For the United States, the recent publications of the Bureau of Labor are of the greatest importance, especially the new "Retail prices and cost of living series," which gives in one place the information formerly scattered through various numbers of the Bulletin. The four volume report of the "Investigation relative to wages and prices of commodities," issued by the Select committee of the Senate on wages and prices of commodities, in 1911, still remains one of the most useful sources of information. Mention should also be made of the Report made by the Board of Trade of London on "Cost of living in American towns" (reprinted as 62d Cong., 1st. sess. Senate Document 22). The latest statistics on the population and food supply of the United States will be found in the Abstract of the thirteenth census recently published by the Bureau of the Census. In connection with this subject, Mr. E. Dana Durand, the Director of the Census, has prepared a paper with the title "Significant results of the census" which will probably be published in an early number of the Century magazine. It deals with the failure of agricultural products to keep pace with the increase of the population.

In this supplement two new features have been introduced with a special view to aiding investigators. One is a list of the sources where current prices of commodities are to be found, and the other is a tabular statement of the sources of the Index numbers of all the more important countries.

Just before going to press we note a new index number for the United States published in the New York Times Annalist, based on twenty-five food commodities representing a theoretical family's food budget.

I take special pleasure in acknowledging the hearty cooperation of the officials of the Bureau of Labor, particularly Miss M. A. Matthews, the Librarian, and of Dr. H. J. Harris, formerly of the Bureau of Labor, and now Chief of the Division of Documents in the Library of Congress. Dr. Harris was instrumental in securing a number of valuable additions to the list of sources of current prices of commodities.

Chief Bibliographer.

INDEX NUMBERS

In the following table are given the sources of the index numbers of all the more important countries.

A detailed account of index numbers including most of those given below and some others will be found in J. Lawrence Laughlin's Principles of money, New York, 1903, chap. 6, Tables of prices, p. 142–224. Briefer accounts are given in U. S. Bureau of labor. Bulletin, Mar. 1902, no. 39, p. 195–216; and in Canada. Dept. of labour. Wholesale prices in Canada, 1890–1909. Ottawa, 1910, in Appendix II. Review of British and foreign index numbers, p. 449–481, a bibliographical note on the construction of an index number is given at the beginning of Appendix I on p. 433.

In the Bulletin de l'Institut international de statistique (covering the session of 1911 in the Hague) tome XIX, 3. livraison, p. 124–244 appear index numbers for Germany, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, France, Holland, New South Wales, Canada, and Japan. For detailed account see item No. 59c.

AUSTRALIA.

See item No. 438a.

AUSTRIA.

Alberti, M. in his "Il costo della vita, i salari e le paghe a Trieste nell' ultimo quarto di secolo," 1911, facing p. 34 contains a table of prices covering 36 commodities from 1885 to 1909 inclusive. This is followed by a series of tables of index numbers extending from 1885 to 1910 covering 14 important food and household commodities, giving the prices, the index number (1885=100) the coefficient and weighted index. Facing p. 70 is a diagram showing the curve of the cost of living in Trieste, 1885 to 1910.

The study is continued in the author's "Il movimento dei prezzi e dei salari nell' anno 1911 a Trieste" 1912, containing some revisions of the figures with more recent information.

BELGIUM.

See item No. 59c.

CANADA.

Canada. Dept. of labour. Wholesale prices, Canada 1909-date.

The first volume was a special report 1890–1909; continued as an annual report. The 1911 volume contains index numbers in 13 classes, including about 258 articles. Continued for each month at intervals in the Labour gazette, also published by the Department of labour.

DENMARK.

See item No. 59c.

FRANCE.

Levasseur, E., in his article in the Revue économique internationale, May, 1909, gives a table of index numbers based on food commodities in France for the years 1880 to 1908; also a table giving the index numbers for the individual commodities based on the average price for the years 1895 to 1900 taken as 100.

La Réforme économique, Paris, publishes at the beginning of each year in one of the late January or early February numbers a series of average prices covering over 40 articles and an index number indicating the general movement of prices.

"Salaires et coût de l'existence," published by the Ministère du travail et de la prévoyance sociale, 1911, p. 44–47, gives a table of index numbers for about 24 commodities of household consumption extending from 1880 to 1909.

See also item No. 59c.

GERMANY.

Soetbeer, Adolf. Soetbeer's Index numbers covering 114 articles, from 1841 to 1885, subsequently extended to 1891, by Dr. Heinz. Included in Taussig's translation of Soetbeer's work which is printed as Appendix D. of 50th Cong., 1st sess., Senate ex. doc. 34 (serial no. 2504), p. 57–280, for index numbers, see p. 229–255; also printed as an Appendix XVI to the Appendix of the final report of the [British] Royal commission on gold and silver. London, 1888, p. 139–244. (Sessional papers, 1888, v. 45. C. 5512–I.) Average prices of 100 articles at Hamburg during the period from 1851 to 1885 with corresponding index numbers, as ascertained by the Bureau of trade statistics at Hamburg, followed by similar figures for 14 British manufactured articles and a table covering all 114 articles. No exact continuation of Soetbeer's figures has been possible owing to the change in relations between Hamburg and the German Empire which took place in 1888. Two numbers have, however, been constructed on the basis of the Hamburg prices. First by Dr. Heinz which is now continued from year to year in Hamburgs Handel und Schifffahrt, published by the Handelsstatistisches Bureau of Hamburg, second by Prof. Conrad of Halle, covering 47 articles, published in Jahrbücher für Nationalökonomie und Statistik, (1907–1912) 3d ser. v. 24: 638–651, v. 34: 793–806, v. 38: 64–78, v. 39: 676–691, v. 42: 48–64. The first series of the index numbers covers the period extending from 1847 to 1901, afterwards continued at intervals to date.

GERMANY—Continued.

Beginning with the Feb. 1879 number of the "Monatshefte zur Statistik des Deutschen Reichs," published by the Statistisches Amt, monthly index numbers covering 28 articles, afterwards increased to 45, have been published.

The "Monatshefte" formed part of the "Statistik des Deutschen Reichs" from 1877–1884, after the latter date it was published separately until 1891, when it was continued by the "Monatliche Nachweise über den auswärtigen Handel Deutschlands" and the "Vierteljahrshefte zur Statistik des Deutschen Reichs" in each of which the index numbers are to be found. While wholesale and retail prices are both given the index numbers are confined to the wholesale prices. In later issues of the "Vierteljahrshefte" the tables become very comprehensive, including in the case of wheat flour the daily market price in the chief markets of the world and for the more important food products the prices in upward of 30 German cities.

The foregoing are published in condensed form in the "Statistisches Jahrbuch für des Deutschen Reichs," published by the same bureau.

In the Statistiche Übersichten über die allgemeine Wirtschaftslage (Beilage zur Zeitschrift für Socialwissenschaft) section B. Waren-und Arbeitsmarkt, table 3 gives O. Schmitz's index numbers covering 29 articles for the years 1909 to 1912; table 4 gives index numbers for metals (pig iron, lead, copper, zinc and tin) for the same period. For earlier index numbers by Schmitz see his "Die Bewegung der Warenpreise in Deutschland von 1851 bis 1902." Berlin, 1903.

Tyszka, Carl von, in an article in Jahrbücher für Nationalökonomie und Statistik, 3d ser. v. 42, p. 632–665, gives index numbers for wholesale and retail prices for a number of important food commodities in Berlin extending from 1881 to date. Includes comparative tables of index numbers for Berlin, London, New York, and Paris.

See also item No. 59c.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Economist, London. Early each year publishes index number covering 22 articles (late in 1911 increased to 44 articles) from 1868 to date.

A correction of these numbers by careful weighting for the years 1865–1885 was published by R. H. Inglis-Palgrave in the Report of the Royal commission appointed to inquire into the depression of trade and industry, 1886. See 3d report, appendix B, pt. 5.

Great Britain. Board of trade. An index number covering 45 articles and extending from 1871 to date is now published in the January number of the Labour gazette. The articles are carefully weighted.

The fifteenth abstract of labour statistics of the United Kingdom, contains (p. 138) index numbers of wholesale prices from 1871–1911 (1900=100). The index numbers have been obtained by weighting the percentages for the 45 articles included by their estimated consumption. Detailed prices of the 45 articles are given in tables found on p. 139–147.

Index numbers of food prices in London, 1895–1911, p. 151–152.

Hooker, R. H., in his "The course of prices at home and abroad 1890–1910," published in the Journal of the Royal statistical society, Dec. 1911, p. 1–50, includes a series of tables extending from 1890–1911 for 16 separate commodities, two tables of index numbers for food and materials and one table covering all of the commodities making a comparison between the United Kingdom, United States, Canada, Belgium, France, Germany, and Italy; a table of comparison between wholesale and retail prices in the United Kingdom, Germany, France, and the United States and a table of the production of gold and silver and of wages in the United Kingdom and the United States.

Jevons, W. S. Investigations in currency and finance. New York and London, 1909.

An index number extending from 1782–1865 and covering 39 and upwards articles will be found in Sections II–IV, p. 13–150, applied especially to the depreciation in the value of gold.

Sauerbeck, Augustus. Sauerbeck's Index numbers covering 45 important articles, included in six groups, are published annually since 1886 in the Journal of the Royal statistical society. They extend from 1846 to date and for a fewer number of articles back to 1818.

INDIA.

India. Statistical dept. published last year "Variations in Indian price levels from 1861–1911 expressed in index numbers. See item 449 of this list.

ITALY.

Necco, A. in his "La curva dei prezzi delle merci in Italia," Torino, 1910, gives on p. 28–31 index numbers covering 16 important commodities for the years 1881 to 1909. On p. 6–7 will be found a table comparing the leading index numbers of the more important countries with the Italian index number. Continued in La Riforma sociale, Sept.–Oct. 1910, Dec. 1911.

JAPAN.

See item No. 59c.

THE NETHERLANDS.

Amsterdam. Bureau van statistiek. Prijzen van levensmiddelen te Amsterdam. 1911.

Contains the index numbers for retail prices of 29 commodities from 1893 to date. Gives also a series of index numbers from 1880 to date made up of the purchasing price of commodities used at the municipal hospitals.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

See item No. 59c.

NEW ZEALAND.

McIlraith, James W. The course of prices in New Zealand. Wellington, 1911.

Contains tables of index numbers for about 45 articles extending from 1861 to 1910, with a summary of index numbers for the 8 groups of commodities and a comparison between the New Zealand numbers, the Economist, Sauerbeck, and Falkner (America). Contains also a table showing the index numbers for marriage rate, bankruptcy, gold production as compared with the index numbers of New Zealand prices.

RUSSIA.

In Russia. Ministerstvo torgovli i promyshlennosti. Сводъ товарныхъ цѣнъ на главныхъ русскихъ и иностранныхъ рынкахъ за 1908 годъ. С.-Петербургъ, Тип. В. Ѳ. Киршбаума, 1909, will be found tables of index numbers for 74 commodities, extending from 1890 to 1908, subsequently extended to date.

SPAIN.

Prof. Bernis in his "El problema de la subsistencias," Begoña, 1911, on p. 58, gives a table of index numbers covering 13 important food commodities for the years 1891 to 1908 and a weighted and unweighted index number for the whole group.

SWITZERLAND.

Bon, F. in his "Untersuchung der Ursachen der Steigerung der Fleischpreise in der Schweiz," published in "Zeitschrift für schweizerische Statistik," v. 47, at p. 439, will be found a table of index numbers from 1885 to 1910 for 15 meat and dairy products, 1900 being taken as the base.

UNITED STATES.

Bradstreet's index number, published monthly in Bradstreet's (journal), covers 96 articles and goes back to 1892. The figures represent the cost of one pound of the commodity at the date given.

The Bureau of economic research, New York, published two quarterly bulletins in 1900. No. 1. Comparative prices, freight rates, stock quotations for the years 1878 to 1900, shown by percentages or index numbers. Compiled under the direction of Prof. John R. Commons. No. 2. Wholesale prices by monthly and quarterly averages, 1896 to 1900 and 1878 to 1882. Shown by index numbers and diagrams. Both simple and weighted averages are given.

Dun's index number published in Dun's review for January, 1901, and continued monthly to 1907. The figures go back to 1860, and represent the money required to buy a year's supply at the date given.

Gibson's index numbers (showing cost of living) published Friday of each week in Gibson's Weekly financial review, New York, prepared by Prof. J. Pease Norton and designed to continue Dun's series. The numbers are arranged under the headings: All foods, Clothing, Minerals, Other, All other than foods, Total, from 1890 to date, the last year being given by months.

U. S. Congress. Senate. Committee on finance.

In the report on "Wholesale prices, wages, and transportation," published in 1893, vol. 1, index numbers are given for 85 articles, extending from 1840–1891. Continued in the following:

U. S. Bureau of labor. Bulletin.
